SITUATION SUMMARY

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

- SOC / Inland REOC remains activated in support of 2014 Drought

Weather of Concern

Weather of Concern

Northern California

- A storm system is still on track to bring rain and wind to northwest California today
 - 12 hour rainfall amounts since Tuesday afternoon have been over an inch across the northern mountains and Coast Range, and around half an inch over the northern Sacramento Valley.
 - Winds look lighter than with previous system, but there could be gusts to 40 mph.
- Central California will receive measureable precipitation; as high as 5 inches of new snow above 5000 feet in the Yosemite area.
 - The San Joaquin Valley will see up to a tenth of an inch and the Sierra Foothills, as much as a quarter inch.

Southern California

- Northwest to north winds will develop behind the exiting front mostly affecting the I-5 Corridor, Santa Barbara County Mountains and adjacent South Coast.
- High surf conditions will continue along the Central Coast through this afternoon as a decaying westerly swell continues to affect the coastal waters.
 - Surf of 12 to 15 feet will subside overnight to 8 to 10 feet and persist through the afternoon.
 - The high surf may continue Wednesday night into Thursday.
 - The high tide at 1130 hours may be high enough to support minor beach erosion or minor tidal overflow in low-lying areas.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

Post frontal shower activity will be observed today. Another Pacific front will bring rain and high elevation snow on Thursday and Thursday night. The inclement weather pattern will continue through the remainder of the week as a series of Pacific storms impact the West.

Medford Weather:

Another round of showers is present as the front approaches the coast this morning. A few strokes of lightning are occurring offshore as the cold pool moves in on the trailing edge of the front.

Reno Weather:

A series of storm systems will impact the Sierra through early next week. Gusty winds will occur at times especially in higher elevations, along with periods of rain and snow. Most of the snow for today is expected from the Tahoe region northward into Lassen County. The next storm is likely to bring moderate snow to northeast California late Thursday and Thursday night.

San Francisco Weather:

A weakening frontal system will spread mainly light to moderate rain tonight and Wednesday. The North Bay and Santa Cruz Mountains will have the greatest rain totals with this frontal system as southerly wind flow enhances rain rates especially on south facing slopes. A break in the rain arrives Thursday followed by another chance of rain Thursday night into Friday. Off and on rain chances will persist through next week.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY:

Sacramento Weather:

Wet pattern continues for Northern California into next week.

Hanford Weather:

A Pacific storm system will bring rain and higher elevation snow to Central California today with gusty winds through and below the Kern County Mountain passes. Continued variable clouds and periods of light rain and snow for next several days as weak disturbances continue to move through the area.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles weather:

Two weak frontal systems will bring light rain showers today and Saturday, mostly north of Point Conception. Otherwise, fair skies with periods of offshore winds and cool temperatures with slight warming on Sunday. More weak frontal systems are possible next week.

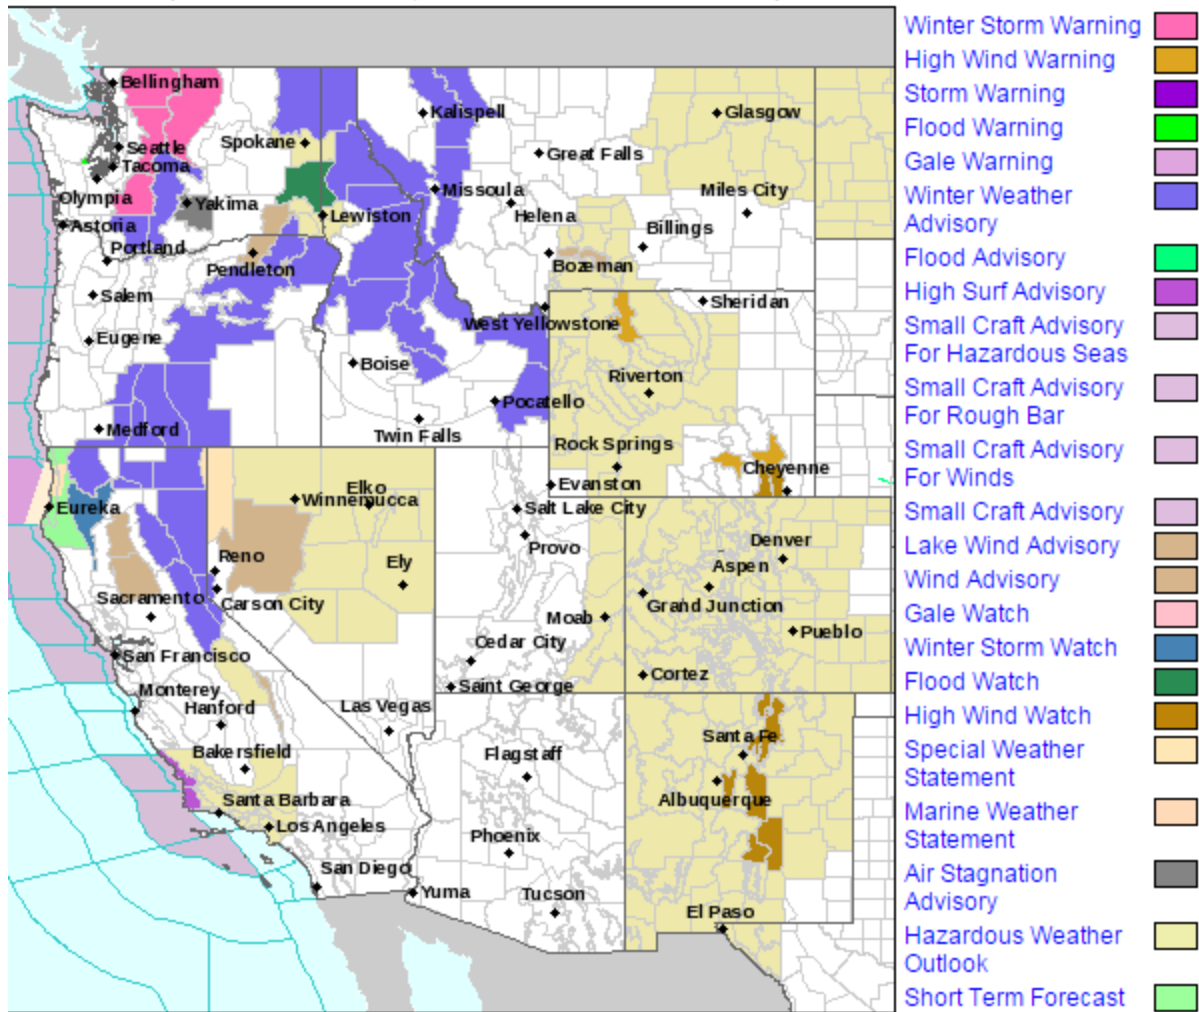

Extreme Southwestern California including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

Areas of frost will persist in the valleys and deserts this morning. A few sprinkles are possible late this evening with little to no accumulation expected. Fair and mild weather will prevail for Thursday through early next week.

Southeast California Weather:

A series of weak storm systems will move through this week, clipping the Sierra and Southern Great Basin with some shower chances at times. Gusty winds will impact the Sierra, Owens Valley, and western Mojave Desert today and again on Friday. Temperatures this week are expected to be near normal.
